

2025/1

ENGLISH WEEK & BOOK CHARACTERS DAY 2024

Celebrating the Joy of Reading: English Week and Book Characters Day 2024

English Week and Book Characters Day 2024 were vibrant celebrations of the richness of the English language and the joy of reading. Through activities such as the Reading Trail at the FHPS Library, the 1-Minute Story Challenge, Creative Book Corners, and the iLOVE Reading Challenge with Form Teachers, students immersed themselves in literature and deepened their love for the written word.

The week inspired creativity, critical thinking, and teamwork as students explored stories, shared ideas, and brought their favorite book characters to life. It was a joyful and inspiring journey that celebrated the power of literature to connect, engage, and spark imagination.

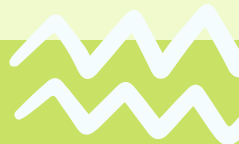

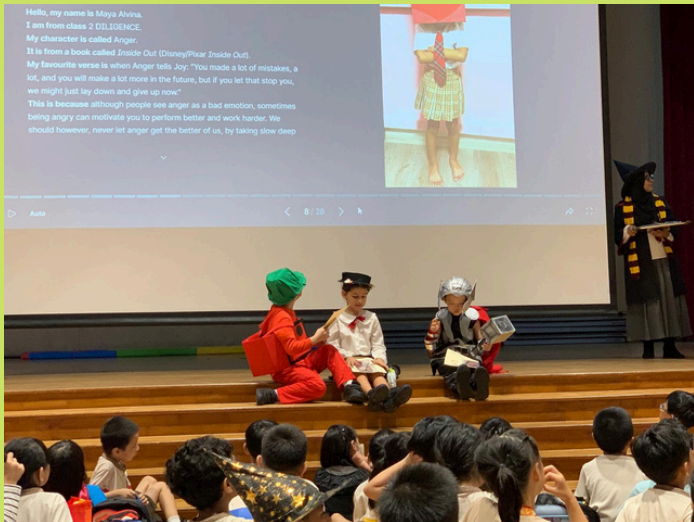

Celebrating the Magic of Reading

Held from September 16 to October 3, 2024, English Week celebrated the joy of reading and aimed to ignite a lifelong love for books. Students explored a diverse range of characters, genres, and stories, gaining new perspectives and immersing themselves in the rich world of literature.

The event highlighted the beauty of storytelling and encouraged students to broaden their literary horizons by discovering the joy of reading across various genres. It was a transformative journey designed to nurture a lasting passion for the written word.

Highlights from English Week 2024

Throughout English Week, students engaged in a variety of fun and enriching activities designed to celebrate their love for language and literature. These activities were designed to make English Week a memorable and inspiring experience for everyone!

The Reading Trail at the Fuhua Library took students on a literary journey, encouraging them to explore a wide range of genres and stories.

In the 1-Minute Story Challenge using Rory cubes, students unleashed their creativity by crafting spontaneous tales based on random prompts. They could either type out their stories or share them verbally.

The Fuhua Book Buzz provided an engaging platform where students enthusiastically shared their favorite reads and discovered exciting new books recommended by their peers. This initiative not only encouraged a love for reading but also fostered a sense of community as students exchanged recommendations and insights on stories that inspired them.

The iLOVE Reading Challenge with Form Teachers (FTs) successfully motivated students to explore more books, deepening their appreciation for literature. Students found inspiration and developed a stronger bond with stories, making reading a shared and enjoyable journey.

Book Characters Day brought stories to life as students dressed up as their favorite characters, celebrating the vibrant personalities and diverse tales that make literature so captivating. This event sparked creativity and enthusiasm, allowing students to express their love for reading in a fun and memorable way.

